RULE 4. When a motion is made and seconded, or a resolution introduced and seconded, or a report presented and read by the Secretary, or stated by the President, it shall be deemed in possession of the Conference; but any motion or resolution may be withdrawn by the mover, with the consent of the Conference, at any time before amendment or decision.

RULE 5. The motions to Lay on the Table, to Take from the Table, and for the Previous Question, shall be taken without debate.

RULE 7. When any member is about to speak in debate, or to deliver any matter to the Conference, he shall rise and respectfully address the President, but shall not proceed until recognized by him.

RULE 8. No member shall be interrupted while speaking, except by the President to call him to order when he departs from the question, or uses personalities or disrespectful language; but any member may call the attention of the President to the subject when he deems a speaker out of order, and any member may explain when he thinks himself misrepresented.

RULE 9. When a member desires to speak to a question of privilege, he shall briefly state the question; but it shall not be in order for him to proceed until the President shall have decided it a privileged question.

RULE 10. No person shall speak more than twice on the same question, nor more than ten minutes at one time, without leave of the Conference; nor shall any person speak more than once until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

RULE 11. When any motion or resolution shall have been acted upon by the Conference, it shall be in order for any member who voted with the prevailing side to move a reconsideration; but a motion to reconsider a non-debatable motion shall be decided without debate.

RULE 13. No member shall be allowed to vote on any question who is not within the bar at the time when such question shall be put by the President, except by leave of the Conference when such member has been necessarily absent.

RULE 14. Every member who is within the bar at the time a question is put shall give his vote, unless the Conference, for special reasons, shall excuse him.

REPORTS.

On Education.

Your Committee on Education respectfully present the following report:

De Pauw University.

Your committee are pleased to learn that all the indications point to the full realization of our hopes in regard to this cherished institution. Some of the buildings authorized and undertaken last season are already completed and occupied. The rest are in such a state of forwardness as to insure their completion by the annual meeting of the board in June. When finished there will be on the grounds of the University, and available for its uses, the Larrabee, Simpson, and Durham Mansions, the east and west college buildings, the Ladies' Hall, capable of accommodating 150 boarders at low rates of expense, the Gentlemen's Hall, with rooms for 100 students, the building erected for music and for art, the considerable annex made to the West College, and the Astronomical Observatory.

The large increase of students, amounting to between six and seven hundred, shows that this enlargement was not undertaken too soon.

Beside the former provision for study and instruction in the Preparatory Department and the Asbury College of Liberal Arts, and the arrangements for physical discipline and culture in the military department, there are new Colleges, or schools, of Theology, of Law, of Art, and of Music. S. S. Parr, an accomplished scholar and experienced educator, has been elected Professor of Didactics and Principal of the Normal School. It is also possible that at next commencement the way may be open for the establishment of the Medical School.

We must not conceal from ourselves that this vast enterprise has been undertaken, and so far carried forward, with confident faith in the solemn pledges of the preachers and people of Indiana. These carried out, the providence of God indicates success even beyond expectation. These unfulfilled, not only will mortifying and disgraceful failure ensue to us as men and Methodists, but the Church and cause of God will receive a most serious and hurtful wound. But there must and will be no such thing as fail.

The grand opportunity afforded us in this way to honor God and to bless the church and the world, must not be allowed to pass unimproved. All that is required is that notes, subscriptions and pledges made be promptly and fully redeemed, or, if in any case that can not be done, others to the full amount be secured in their stead.

We recommend for adoption the following:

Resolved, That as a Conference we pledge ourselves anew to carry out our obligations and do our part towards securing the success of this great undertaking.

Resolved, That we will aid in collecting and transmitting to the Treasurer, Colonel John W. Ray, at Indianapolis, the sums that may be due in our several charges.

Resolved, That we will keep the interests of the University before our people and friends, and encourage the attendance of students seeking instruction in the higher departments of advanced education.

Resolved, That Judge James A. S. Mitchel be re-elected Trustee for the ensuing term of three years.

Resolved, That T. Stabler and A. E. Mahin be elected Conference Visitors.

Resolved, That it be the duty of these Visitors to make a written report to this Conference, at its next annual session, of the condition, and wants of our University.

Fort Wayne College.

WHEREAS, At the last annual meeting of the National Association of Local Preachers of the Methodist Episcopal Church, held at Alliance, O., in October, 1884, an appeal was made in behalf of the Fort Wayne College, which appeal was referred to a Special Committee for consideration; and,

WHEREAS, Said committee reported, in substance, that the advancement of Christian education is a legitimate object to be accomplished by the Association, and rccommended that a Standing Committee on Education be appointed, and to that committee be referred the appeal made in behalf of Fort Wayne College; and,

WHEREAS, The said Standing Committee, consisting of E. H. Harding, of Philadelphia; G. W. Mooney, of Brooklyn, and W. H. Kincaid, D. D., of Pittsburg, have, by personal investigation, satisfied themselves that the Fort Wayne College is worthy of the confidence and support of all who have at heart the interests of Methodist education, and have given their official signatures to a paper recommending said Institution to the notice of the local preachers of the Methodist church; therefore,

Resolved, That we gratefully acknowledge the interest shown by the National Association of Local Preachers in the welfare of Fort Wayne College, and that we recommend that the Trustees of Fort Wayne College cooperate with the officers of the National Association of Local Preachers in any measures in the interest of the College.

We recommend that Children's Day be observed in all our churches and Sunday-schools, and that the proceeds be equally divided between Fort Wayne College and the Educational Society at New York; and, in addition, we recommend that the pastors solicit private donations for Fort Wayne College.

We recommend that Rev. W. S. Birch, Rev. A. E. Mahin, Rev. Thos. Rogers, Rev. A. W. Lamport and John W. Hayden, Esq., be elected Trustees of Fort Wayne College.

We recommend that Rev. M. Swadener and Rev. C. E. Bacon be elected Visitors to Fort Wayne College.

De Pauw School of Theology.

The Committee is gratified to learn of the prosperity and prospects of the School of Theology in DePauw University under the direction of the Dean, Dr. S. L. Bowman, and commend it to the favorable regard of our young men who are looking to the ministry.

Garrett's Biblical Institute.

We continue to recommend this Institute to young men of the church, and to the favor of our people, and request them to remember it in their donations.

We recommend the election of Rev. J. K. Walts and Rev. Clark Skinner as Visitors to the Institute.

W. S. BOSTON, Secretary. T. STABLER, Chairman.

On Temperance.

WHEREAS, The liquor traffic and interest is becoming more and more aggressive; and,

WHEREAS, Our Church is unalterably committed to its overthrow; and,

WHEREAS, Our last General Conference in an emphatic manner has spoken in Paragraph 554 of Discipline; therefore,

Resolved, That we fully concur in and indorse this utterance of our General Conference.

Resolved, That we are earnestly committed in favor of the submission to a vote of the people of Indiana of an amendment to the Constitution of said State, forever prohibiting the importation, manufacture and sale of alcoholic spirits, as a beverage, within the borders of the State.

Resolved, That we regard the enlightenment of the children relative to the effects of alcohol upon the human system, of most vital importance, and hail as an encouraging progressive step in the aggressive advance which the cause of temperance is now making, the fact that so many State Legislatures during the past winter have passed bills providing for instruction in the public schools upon this subject. We greatly regret that in our own State Legislature the bill providing for such instruction failed by an indefinite postponement in the Senate.

Resolved, That we regard the circulation of temperance literature, tracts and periodicals as one of the best means of educating the people upon the subject of temperance.

Resolved, That we commend the Rev. R. D. Spellman to the various temperance organizations of this State for employment as a temperance evangelist.

C. U. WADE, Secretary. T. STABLER, Chiarman.

On Freedmen's Aid.

Your Committee on the Freedmen's Aid Society respectfully submit the following report:

The Society is doing a great work, having under its supervision forty-one institutions of learning, employing one hundred and sixty-eight teachers, in which over five thousand pupils have received instruction during the last year.

The apportionment to this Conference this year is $1,500, which, in view of the pressing demands of the work, ought to be raised in full; therefore,

Resolved, That as pastors we will instruct our people concerning the work the Society is doing, and urge them to give to its support more liberally.

Resolved, That we will each make an earnest effort to raise the full amount apportioned to our respective charges.

A. C. GERARD,
N. D. SHACKELFORD,
J. W. MILLER.
Committee.

Tract Cause.

The tract literature of the Methodist Episcopal Church is all that could be desired, being pure and admirably adapted to aid the pastor in his work.

It is the opinion of your committee that our ministers do not fully appreciate the possible practical efficiency of our tracts.

We earnestly request that the Tract Committee of each charge be aroused to a sense of duty, and urged to work according to the spirit of the Discipline.

We ask each minister to take a full collection for the Tract Cause. The collection for the past year amounts to $123.20, for which amount the Book Agent has given us a receipt.

W. D. PARR,
R. H. SMITH,
A. S. WOOTEN,
Committee.

*Missionary to India. †No Memoir.

"There is no death! What seems so is transition;
This life of mortal breath
Is but a suburb of the life elysian
Whose portals we call death."

MEMOIRS.

The Rev. Charles P. Wright.

The Rev. Charles Perry Wright was born near Xenia, Green county, Ohio, July 5th, 1826, and died in the city of Logansport, April 29th, 1884, aged 57 years, 9 months, and 24 days.

Brother Wright's ancestors were Methodists from the time of the earliest organization of our Church in Virginia. His father was a farmer, and his youth was consequently passed in the labors of the parental farm, and on his own farm, until he entered the ministry. His educational advantages were such only as were given by the instructions of an intelligent, pious mother, by the common schools of the time, by studious habits, and a bright and consecrated intellect, When he first came to Indiana, his intention was to attend school for a year or two, but the seeming necessities of the work caused him to be persuaded otherwise.

Our brother was converted in January, 1840, in his fourteenth year, in a young men's prayer meeting. He immediately united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. His lifelong faithfulness in the Master's service was shown at once. He became a regular attendant upon all the means of grace. His class met at noon on Wednesday. Whenever that time came, if he were at school, he would ask to be excused for the hour, and if he were in the field, his plow would be left in the furrow. As he grew older, he became convinced that it was his duty to preach, but being of a very diffident and retiring disposition, he never ran until he was sent. August 21, 1852, he was licensed to preach, very soon after which he came to Indiana, with the intention of ultimately joining our Conference. But Brother W. H. Goode, of precious memory, at once drafted him into service, and appointed him as a supply on the Pendleton Circuit.

He was received on trial at our session at Richmond, in 1853. In 1856 he was ordained a Deacon by Bishop Baker, and an Elder by Bishop Ames, in 1858.

His fields of labor were '52, Pendleton; '53, Greensboro'; '54, Union City; '55, Hagerstown; '56–7, Whitewater; '58–9, Lanesville; '60, North Street, Indianapolis; '61–2, Pendleton; '63, Bluffton; '64, Winchester; '65, Union City; '66, Muncie Circuit; '67, Lima; '68, Bluffton, resting a portion of the year for his health; '69, Mishawaka; '70, Elkhart, for a portion of the year only, on account of poor health; '71, supernumerary; '72–3–4, Market street, Logansport; '75–6–7, Wheatland street, Logansport; '78–9–80, Market street, Logansport; '81–2–3, Conference Tract Agent; '84, superannuated. This made thirty-two years of service, superannuating only a few weeks before his death.

Brother Wright was married December 25th, 1854, to Miss Fanny Gerhart, of Philadelphia, Pa. For almost thirty years their married life showed two loving souls, truly one, united by a tie which grew stronger each year, until separation became painful, although it were for a day only. One child only blessed this marriage, a son, who for more than twenty years has been in the better life.

For several years past, brother Wright's health was not firm, and at our last session, in Peru, it was evident that the end was drawing near, though no one supposed it was so near. He himself was aware from the nature of his disease, which was a difficulty of the heart, that he was liable to be called away at any time. After the close of the session, he failed very rapidly. Yet he would not cease from mental and manual labor, saying, "I want to work while I can." He did not take to his bed until some nine days before his death.

He had so frequently spoken of his impending departure, that he said very little during his last week. Not a murmur escaped his lips. His faithful wife, desiring to know if he preferred any one of his brethren to officiate at his funeral services on account of any especial attachment, he replied, "I love them all." She asked at another time, "Is Jesus with you?" "He is always with me," was the reply, and after a minute's pause, he added, "I am not afraid to die." "You have committed all into the hands of the Lord?" she asked. "Yes," was the ready answer. She said "How can I do without you?" He answered, "I guess it will have to be so, for we can not go together," and tried to put his arms around her, as if to take her along with him. This was nearly the last, and in such peace, faith and triumph, he ascended into the heavens to be forever with the Lord whom he had so faithfully served.

His funeral services were held in the Broadway Methodist Church, in Logansport, and were conducted by Bros. Meck, Greenman, Ford, Naftzger, Neal, and others, while the vast concourse of his friends and fellow-citizens showed the respect in which he was held. His remains were laid away at Logansport, where he has spent so many years of his noble life.

Bro. Wright was a man who strove to obey the whole law, loving God with all his heart, and his neighbor as himself. He never spoke evil of any, nor thoughtlessly criticised any one, and words of kindness only fell from his lips. The friendship and love felt for him was universal. He was calm, gentle, serene, and exceedingly diligent. He was an equal, forcible, effective, and entertaining preacher. Churches always prospered under his administration, and revivals were frequent. He never sought for place or office, and always went willingly and cheerfully wherever his superiors sent him. In honor, he preferred others. He never repined at poor pay, saying, "I am not preaching for money." He had an especial talent for bringing up the temporal interests of the charges that he served, and in building and repairing churches.

In his family circle he was always firm, self-reliant, kind, cheerful, and loving. His care for his household was full of thought, especially in those little things which so tend to make life pleasant. No son could have ever cared more tenderly for his parents than he did for his father-in-law and mother-in-law in the years of their feebleness and the mother-in-law's blindness.

He was cheerful at all times, even in the midst of trials, and none can forget his genial smile. His piety was deep aud placid, as deep waters always are. He was greatly esteemed in the city of Logansport, where he had lived for nearly twelve years, and his services were in great request. In Logansport alone he officiated at nearly five hundred funerals, and at very many marriages. The last year of his life, although so feeble, there was scarcely a Sabbath when he did not labor somewhere.

May the richest consolations of divine grace be given to his stricken widow, who has been called upon to pass through such deep waters, and who, in the past four years has seen mother, father, and husband carried out of her home to return no more.

There is no one of us who does not feel a sense of personal loss to-day in the absence of this good man and true. One of the pleasures of the other life will be that we shall see him again. Do not heaven and earth join in saying of him, "Well done?"

The Rev. John C. Mahin.

"How are the mighty fallen!" Again we lament the vacant seat of one whom we loved, and listen in vain for the eloquence of him whom we delighted to hear. John Clark Mahin has ascended into the heavens, and rests from his labors.

Our brother was born August 26th, 1833, in Tippecanoe county, Indiana, about five miles from the place where he died. His death occuared February 6th, 1885, of consumption, at the age of 51 years, 5 months and 10 days.

Bro. Mahin's early advantages were exceedingly meagre. His parents, one of whom, his aged mother, survives him, were farming people, and in that early day struggled hard with poverty. In this contest of winning the new country to civilization, and gaining a livelihood from the earth, his boyhood and youth were passed. All the schooling he enjoyed was such as was afforded by the common schools of the time, in some log school-house, and would not aggregate a year in all, perhaps not six months. In spite of all these early disadvantages, he gave a grand example of what earnest study and perseverance can accomplish.

At the age of 23, September 30, 1856, he was converted, and at once united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. He preached his first sermon shortly after his conversion, in Wood's school-house, in White county, Ind. The same day that he was received into full membership, he was licensed to exhort. At a subsequent quarterly meeting he was licensed to preach by the Rev. Moses Wood, who now resides in Battle Ground. That same autumn he was received on trial in the North-West Indiana Conference. He at once took front rank as an earnest, eloquent, gospel preacher. He was filled with an ambition to meet the requirements of the New Testament standard of preaching.

His appointments were as follows: 1857, Indian Creek; 1858, Morocco, more than 200 being added to the church; 1859, Medaryville; 1860, Sumption Prairie; 1861, Door Village; 1862–3, Shawnee; 1864–5, Plymouth; 1866, superanuated for six months; 1867–8, Brookston; 1869–70–1, transferred to the North Indiama Conference, and stationed at Goshen; 1872–3–4, Anderson; 1875–6, Peru; 1877–8–9, Wabash; 1881–2–3–4, superannuated. For a year of his superannuation he was supply for Battle Ground, until the failure of his health and loss of his voice compelled him to resign.

Bro. Mahin was married at the early age of 20 to Miss Lasa Ann Kious, who survives him. Four children were theirs, three daughters and one son. The oldest daughter, Mrs. Alice Reid, resides at Grand Rapids, Mich. The second daughter was married, but soon after died of consumption at her father's house, at Peru. The third daughter, just as she was budding into womanhood, died of consumption at Wabash. Both left ample evidence that they had gone to the better country. The son, now 15 years old, is the stay and hope of his widowed mother.

Bro. Mahin was not strong for some time before his superannuation. After taking this relation, exercise and out door air so improved his health that he thought seriously of again becoming effective. Soon, however, the affection of his larynx grew worse, spreading to his lungs, and continuing its ravages until his strong man was bowed under him. For sixteen months he was unable to speak above a whisper. During this time he suffered intensely, and became exceedingly emaciated. Yet, he never complained, but always rejoiced. He realized that the time of his departure was approaching, and often conversed freely and triumphantly concerning it. He frequently said, "I would rather walk with God in the dark than in the light alone." Speaking of the possibility of his recovery, he said, "If God should say to me, 'Choose life or death,' I should say, I can not; I might choose, wrongly; O God, choose thou for me." His faculties were not impaired; his intellect was not dimmed; his hope was unfailing.

Especially during the last six weeks of his stay was it an inspiration to see him and hear him talk. His expositions of certain passages of scripture were phenomenally clear, and attended with the deepest pathos and unction. The last words of Jude, commending the early Christians to Jesus, were particularly attractive and charming to him. The last week, both of his brothers, who are our beloved fellow ministers, were with him. He joined fervently in the prayers they offered at his bedside, and frequently uttered words of prayer and praise. When asked if all was light, he smiled and answered, "No darkness at all." When told of the conversion of sixteen at a neighboring appointment, he cried out, "Sixteen? glory, glory, glory." Again, when asked how it looked before him, he replied, "Brighter, and brighter, and brighter."

Thursday his loving wife saw that the end was drawing near. His vital energies were almost exhausted. Placing his hand lovingly upon the face of her who had shared with him the joys and sorrows of itinerent life for nearly thirty years, he said, "My dear, you have been so good to me, I wish you could go along." Then commending his son to the care of his Heavenly Father, he sweetly breathed his life away Friday afternoon, in the presence of his family, his brother Augustus Eddy, and his pastor.

The funeral services were held in the Methodist Church at Battle Ground, Ind., on the eighth of February, and were conducted by the Rev. W. B. Slutz, assisted by the Revs. J. H. Claypool, W. R. Mikels, H. A. Buchtel, W. W. Jones, L. Nebeker, and M. Wood. In all respects the services were most timely and beautiful. The vast concourse sorrowed most of all that they should see his face no more.

The life, the work and the success of John Clark Mahin need no eulogy. They speak for themselves. He was one of our best pastors and most eloquent preachers. He was a wonderful student, and his lack of early educational privileges made him insatiable in his thirst for knowledge. When in pursuit of a fact, or a truth, he knew no rest or relaxation until what he sought was found, or its finding was seen to be impossible. He was greatly interested in the natural sciences, and especially in their bearing upon revelation. Had he given himself more rest and relaxation, he might perhaps have lived longer. But it was impossible for him to do anything by halves. Whatever his hand found to do he did with all his might. It has been said that he was more familiar with the very essence of the Scriptures than any of his age in his Conference. All who knew or heard him can truthfully say that "he was powerful in the Scriptures."

As a preacher he was unsurpassed in ability, power, eloquence, and spirituality. His whole soul went forth in the message that the Holy Ghost gave him.

His character was lovable. Somewhat timid, the stranger did not always realize his worth at first; but when once the way to his heart was found, it was discovered that he was a true friend, a genial companion, and an earnest, spiritual Christian. As a superannuate, he was sweet, submissive, and cheerful. No complaint was heard from his lips, much as he regretted to give up the work he loved so well. He felt he could as well serve and glorify God by patience and cheerfulness, as by more active labor.

His family life was indeed lovely. His affection for his wife and children was a deep, unbroken current, filling the family circle with cheer. His life and his character were ever above reproach, and no whisper of aspersion was ever heard with reference to him.

He filled some of our best appointments most acceptably. In his hands the churches prospered, souls were converted, and the saints were edified. The circle of the three brothers in our midst is broken, and by him whom we scarce thought would be the first to go. May it again be reunited in the kingdom of our Redeemer's triumph. Our loss is irreparable. His work, his memory, shall live after him. May God give to us all equally useful lives, and equally joyful departures.

"Rest from thy labors,
Soul of the just, set free!
Blest be thy memory, and blest
Thy bright example be!"

Mrs. Lucy H. Tharp.

Lucy H. Adsit, wife of the Rev. T. D. Tharp, of the North Indiana Conference, died at Russiaville, Ind., May 28, 1884, aged 43 years.

She was born in Delaware county, Indiana. Her parents were pious. When she was but eight years of age her mother died, but that mother had not neglected her daughter's religious education, for she had taught her to pray as early as she could remember. In one of those childish prayers our sister was converted. She gave all to Christ, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church in her early girlhood.

Mrs. Tharp was well educated, and finely cultured. When she was sixteen years old she was married to the Rev W. S. Bradford, a promising young minister of the North Indiana Conference. With him she shared the toils and cares of itinerant life, until he died of ill health contracted in the service of his country in the army.

Her second marriage was to our Bro. Tharp, to whom she was ever a true and faithful wife in all things. When he felt called to enter the itinerant ministry, she made no objection, but cheerfully went forth a second time to this work. Although quite frail, she willingly did all that she could.

For several years before her death she had been a sufferer, but bore it all without a murmur. She declined very rapidly for the last two months, and within a few weeks after their removal to their new charge, at Russiaville, it became evident that the end was near. For two weeks she suffered intensely. About an hour before her death her pains ceased, and all became calm. She was more beautiful and radiant than ever. She asked her husband to read. He quoted some passages of Scripture, but she said, "No, read." As he took the book, she said, "Now, all sit down." He read the 23d psalm, and turning to the 14th of John's gospel, said, "Do you understand?" Nodding assent, she said again, "Read." He read part of this chapter, and, turning to John's epistles, read portions from them, until she said, "That will do; now all be still, and let me go to sleep." She then sank into a peaceful slumber, and when she awoke she was in the many mansions, and with the Savior whom she trusted.

Our sister was a true Christian woman, faithful in all things. Her life was one of devotion to God, his church, and its institutions. She loved the Missionary Society especially, and was actively engaged in the work of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society. Her life always exemplified the true Christian charity as described by Paul. Her married life was eminently happy, and her love to her husband was devoted, sincere, and unremitting. Especially during the closing months of her life her religious experience was luminous, and her prayers and testimonies were filled with the power of the Holy Ghost.

She was loved by all who knew her, and especially at Marion, where her home had been so long, and where a multitude of friends mourn her loss. Every possible kindness and care was shown her in her illness in the new charge to which she had but just come.

Her funeral services took place at Marion, and were conducted by the Rev. A. Greenman, and in the beautifal cemetery in that city her dust awaits the resurrection morning.

May our Brother find support in the precious consolations of the gospel, which he has so often extended to others in like circumstances. May he again find in the other life her who is not lost, but only gone before.

It is certain to become a household treasure in thousands of families."

"PATHS TO WEALTH is written in a plain, practical style, and is overflowing with good, wholesome advice, which, if carried out, will lead to a contented, happy life."

Testimonials.

(From the Baltimore Methodist.)

The author was a traveling preacher in the Methodist Episcopal Church in Kansas, but retired many years since on account of failing health. He has been widely known as a prominent banker in Topeka; and is publicly endorsed, even by bishops, as a reliable advertiser and investor of funds entrusted to him for investment, and as a Christian of standing and influence in his own State. He seems to open his own heart, and describe his own life in these pages. He has made the acquirement of honorable wealth a thorough study; and almost every imaginable phase of economy, industry, and skillful enterprise toward securing the result, is discussed. Young men starting into business will find this book worth to them more than its weight in gold. We know nothing equal to its maxims, except Benjamin Franklin's works. All business men will find it a valuable companion; and many a spare moment may be filled with entertainment by glancing through its leaves. Professional gentlemen, even ministers, will find many suggestions to help them.

(From the Church Union, New York.)

"Paths to Wealth," by John D. Knox, is chuck full of common sense and practical advice. He shows no "royal road" to fortune; leaves no room for "chance" and "the fates." Starting with the worth of wealth, he proceeds to the duty of its pursuit, giving religion and virtue as the foundations on which to build early mental training and individual responsibility. Thorough honesty, hard work, care of health, special business, determination, energy and perseverance, promptness and economy of time, steady saving and investment, are the tools he would recommend to work with; the accessories are good sense, hopefulness, courage and fortitude, politeness, temperance, no debts, good company, and good giving. With such walls of defense, and the habits of application noted previously, Mr. Knox would build a noble character with which to dignify and ennoble wealth, and build a manhood for each up to its best estate.
